BUILDINGS FOR HOUGH SHADE CO.

PLANS ALL READY FOR ADDITION TO THIS FACTORY.

INCREASED BUSINESS SHOWN

Lower End of the City Factories Busy
With the Work Piling

Orders.

The Hough Shade Corporation have had the plans drawn up for a new one story building and basement to be occupied for storing yarns, hammocks and to be used for their new hammock department. The building will be put up this fall on the plot of ground owned by them just north of their present plant. It will be a structure 85 feet by 54 feet in dimensions, 15 feet high, with a basement 4 feet high. It is to be constructed of red brick, with concrete floors and steel roof trusses. The only wood in the building will be the roof timbers and the doors. The specifications will be ready for the bidders October 2, and they expect to have the building finished about the 25th of November. There will be a switch and freight receiving platform at the rear end of the building.

The new hammock-making machines which they were to install this fall have been received at the factory and have been set up but as yet only one of them is in running order. As soon as the rest are ready to start running, the factory will begin work on a complete line of the "Vande" patented reinforced hammocks, in twenty-five grades and colors.

The Janesville Cement Shingle company are preparing sixty carloads of cement sand for shipment to the United States Gypsum company, this winter. They are also busy filling their regular contracts for these people, and others which they have had this summer. An advertising campaign has been started and it is expected that several new contracts for shingles and sand will be closed in a few weeks.

The pack of corn at the P. Hohensel Jr. cannery factory was short on account of the corn crop being short. Work on the cabbage packing was just started yesterday.

The Rock County Granite Brick and Stone company have started up again and are working hard to catch up with their back orders. They are making up to their fullest capacity, which is eighteen thousand brick every day. The full force have been working overtime in order to rush these orders out.

The Robertson & Fisher Sand company are busy making a shipment of ten carloads of sand.

The Rock County Concrete Stone company are working on Grant Plover's new cement-block house on South Main street, which is finished as far as the first story. They will soon begin work on another one at the corner of Racine and Logan streets. Besides these houses they are hauling stone for several foundations here in town.

TOBACCO BUYERS IN THE FIELD ALREADY

Opening of the Rush for the Good Crops has Already Begun in the State.

With scarcely less than half a hundred buyers riding the growing districts during the week, the buying movement has resumed considerable activity again and in the aggregate quite a large amount of tobacco has been contracted for, says the Edgerton Reporter. The larger operators, who are manufacturing concerns, like the American, the United, and the Elmhurst Bros., are the principal buyers, and under the influence of competition prices are strengthening somewhat. The aim, of course, is to secure the more promising early lots that are believed to yield desirable blader leaf and for such tobacco growers are able to secure their orders at prices which is seldom less than 10 cents and often more. As few sales reaching us show what is being paid:

Geo. W. all, 14a at 10 1/2c.
K. Vindahl, 18a at 10 1/2c.
Wm. R. Hugg, 8a at 10 1/2c.
W. & E. Hugg, 6a at 10 1/2c.
W. D. Hugg, 6a at 10 1/2c.
Gust Hugg, 6 1/2a at 10 1/2c.
E. Kirby, 5a at 10 1/2c.
Albert Meyer, 7a at 10 1/2c.
J. W. Sutter has also purchased the crop of Julius Johnson, 5a; Geo. Goldthorn, 5a; J. W. Hugg, 7a; Clark & Anderson, 5a; E. Hugg, 5a; W. S. Tanner, 3a, at prices like the above.

Considerably inquiry is developing in the cured leaf market and while no large transactions are reported quite a bit of small trading is going on and a better feeling prevails, regarding the future.

The drought has been broken during the week bringing cooler weather and the first frosts of the season effecting little or no damage to the crop.

Shipments out of storage reach 2460 cases and two car loads of bundles from this market to all points for the week.

The amount of damage which packers have sustained the past few years through the natural sweat of their tobacco, ranging anywhere from 10 to 50 per cent, seems to call for some radical changes in warehouse handling if they are to escape such losses. The cause of so much mold and must, as well as black rot in some cases, is a matter of a good deal of speculation and no well defined theory has been advanced that is accepted as being the correct reason. The fact that it does appear and entails a great deal of loss and expense to packers is the chief concern, and everyone would be happy if a satisfactory reason for it could be discovered. Some packers have the idea that the damage largely comes through the harvesting of unripe and immature tobacco and also the fact that in seasons when the tobacco is not bought until after it is cured the percentage of damage falls below those years when the crop is contracted for in the fields, thus reducing the temptation to harvest the crop too green. But whatever the cause, if warehouse manipulation of the tobacco after it has been received can prevent the damage, much will be gained. It bulk sweating of the leaf proves to be a preventative or a help even that much will be gained. It is noticeable that many of the modern warehouses are equipped with heating plants so that forced or bulk sweating can be employed and it is quite probble that experiments carried on will eventually eliminate such losses as were sustained in the '06 and '07 crops. It is certainly a live subject to packers, not only in Wisconsin but in all cigar leaf states as well.

FIRST PERFORMANCE OF "IN DREAMLAND"

Pleased the Large Audience Assembled at the Myers Theatre Last Evening.

TITANIA (scornfully): "In coming here, he certainly mistook his station!"

NOTHILLER (reproachful, pleading and plaintive): "Most mighty queen, is THAT the way you treat a poor relation?"

John E. Owens' fairy play, "In Dreamland," which was presented at the Myers theatre last evening under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of the city and which is to be repeated this evening and tomorrow afternoon, has clever lines and more of a plot than most spectacles of the kind. The hosts of wood and insect who surround of dainty little sprites and butterflies, royal guards, graceful flowers, atrocious gnomes of the forest, not to mention the beautiful court of "Queen Titania," and all are appropriately and wonderfully garbed in white and tinsel and gilt and colors that blend like the hues of a rainbow in the big pictures. Some of the tiny fairies nodded and yawned toward the close of the performance; "Nothiller" got his wings tangled in a piece of scenery just as he piped in a shrill aside to the audience: "If I steal away, there was a little awkward pause when the chorus overlooked its cue to sing at one juncture in the final act; and several other amusing incidents and interruptions, not on the program, helped to heighten the enjoyment of the onlookers. On the whole, the unusually large cast was remarkably well drilled.

Though there is rather slender opportunity for her beautiful voice, Miss Bess B. Durell makes the most of the role of "Titania" and her dramatic work is of a high order. The "Dreamland" song with which she closes the performance is very pleasing. Ronald Airlie as "Prince Oberon," the royal consort, also delighted every listener with his "Love from the Window" and "Sweetheart Days" numbers. Miss Ethel Pond, as "Florio, Queen of the Flowers," was twice recalled after her "Violet" song last evening, and a number by Miss Agnes Griebel, who had the role of "Elfin," was also received with great applause. Miss Marguerite Powers gives a highly creditable delineation of "Arlie, the Queen of the Butterflies." "Gilia, the Giant Ogre," "Duck, the Court Jester," "E. Owens, Mrs. Owens, and the Little, the son, Master Leo Owens, Sumner Pond, as "Tristram, the Royal Herald."

The dances and evolutions of the divinites of the fairy-land, impersonated by the Misses Pearl Peters, Agnes Griebel, Robena Keller, Edna Blanton, and nearly thirty others, are deserving of special mention. The effect of most of the figures is heightened by the calcium light and they are very dream-like and beautiful.

Science and Invention

MINERS' ELECTRICAL LAMP

Eliminates All Danger of Explosions From Contact With Gases.

The old-fashioned oil lamp still being used by miners seems soon to be superseded by the electrical lamp, a recent design being shown in the illustration. It can readily be imagined what the general use of the electrical lamp would mean to the miners—the elimination of the terrible accidents of daily occurrence due to explosions from contact of the oil lamp with invisible gases. The electrical lamp shown here is operated in connection with a specially designed cap, in which is stored an electric battery. Light is furnished by a small incandescent lamp surrounded by a reflector on the fore part of the cap. The light is operated by a push button secured to the under surface of the cap, where it is constantly in convenient reach of the wearer. The cap and attached lamp are light in weight and in no way interfere with free movement of the arm. The battery is really recharged at little expense. In fact, the cost of maintenance is only slightly in excess of the lamp, the greater cost being the initial expenditure for the apparatus.

ELECTRIC LAMP IS CAP

A NOVEL BRACKET

Can Be Put Up Anywhere or Folded Into Small Space.

To those who have to make the most of every inch of space in home or office, the bracket devised by a New York man will appeal strongly. The bracket consists of two heavy wire arms, shaped like a letter "H", and having lateral extensions at the ends which fasten in two plates that are screwed into wall or door. Below and between these plates is a third, which holds a pair of supporting arms, the ends of which fasten in circular loops in the longitudinal arms and holds them upright. The whole apparatus can be put up anywhere in a few minutes and taken down as readily. When not in use the supporting arms can be slipped out of place and the bracket folded against wall or door. A board can be placed across the top if needed.

MUSIC LEAF TURNER

Musicians Presses Bulb With Foot, Turning Each Successive Page.

Among recent patented devices is an ingenious apparatus for turning the leaves of music, designed by a Pennsylvania man. Numerous attempts have been made to devise a music leaf turner, but none has as yet proved practical. At least we do not see orchestras or bands using any of them. The one shown in the illustration certainly seems practical in every way. At the same time its operation is very simple. It can be used in connection with any of the ordinary music stands generally employed for the purpose. Attached to the frame is a receptacle containing the operating mechanism. Extending from the receptacle are six or more rods, which are used to turn the pages and end in fingers. The latter when in position rest on each successive page of the music. Depending from the operating mechanism is a rubber tube and bulb, the latter resting on the ground close to the musician's foot. When the musician has reached the end of the page and desires to continue on the next, he presses the bulb with his foot, and the first page of music is turned over. On each successive page he does the same, each finger in turn forcing the next page over.

TURNING BULB TURN MUSIC.

METAL RAILWAY TIE

More Durable Than Wood and Can Be Cheaply Made.

Metal railway ties are used extensively in Germany, and numerous experiments with them have been made in this country, but it would appear that none comes so near filling the requirements as the tie and rail fastener just patented by a Pennsylvania man. This tie is composed of two sections of heavy tubing joined at their ends and separated from each other between the tracks rails. The rails are set in grooves and held firmly in place by holding devices. The advantages of these metal ties over the wooden ones are several. In the first place, they are much more durable, and there is no danger of their rotting and having to be replaced. They can also be made very cheaply and the tubing is not only very strong, but separation of the two sections between the tracks relieves the stress and reduces the noise of traffic.

Douglas and Lincoln. In the contest for the presidency between Lincoln and Douglas he made his first debut as a stump speaker in Douglas' behalf. He served in the lower house of congress in the 70's, with many of the most prominent statesmen of the republic. He was a contemporary of Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia, who had been a friend of Webster, Calhoun, Clay and Cass. He was a contemporary of Judge Reagan of Texas, a member of the cabinet of Jefferson Davis. He served in the forty-sixth congress with James A. Garfield, and knew well the peerless James G. Blaine.

He was assistant postmaster general under Grover Cleveland in his last successful canvass for the presidency. Of the senators in office when Stevenson presided over the upper house of congress, but eight are now living. Such is the remarkable story line in outline of the democratic candidate for governor of Illinois. Once he ran with Bryan for second place, but was defeated. Today he is offering the people of Illinois his services in a contest with Gov. Charles S. Deneen, who is the republican nominee for re-election.

Greatest Art of a Politician.

It is a very easy thing to devise good laws; the difficulty is to make them effective. The great mistake is that of looking upon men as virtuous, or thinking that they can be made so by laws; and, consequently, the greatest art of a politician is to render vices servicable to the cause of virtue.—Lord Bellingbrooke.

THE MOST PROMINENT LIVING DEMOCRAT, ADLAI STEVENSON.

Chicago.—Viewed from the standpoint of the office which he has held, former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson is the most prominent living democrat, for he is the only living democrat who ever occupied first or second place in Washington. Today he is re-entering politics along the old-fashioned democratic line, and is a candidate for governor of Illinois on the democratic ticket. He is conducting a dignified, peaceful candidacy, which is quite in keeping with his personality and his record.

Mr. Stevenson is a character well worthy of qualification, for his life has been thrown in those channels where have run the nation's history for the past two decades. In antebellum days Stevenson campaigned with Stephen A. Douglas. He was present at all the historic debates between

AN UNAPPRECIATED INDUSTRY

Much is being said and written, nowadays, about the farmer and the value of his lands and products as a national asset, and when the fact is considered that the families supported by the six and a quarter million farmers, represent more than one-third of the country's population, the value of agriculture as a great industry, may not be overestimated.

But there is another industry,

equally important to the nation's welfare, which for a year has been under the ban and which continues to be the football for almost every man possessing an ambition to kick.

This is the much-discussed and thoroughly detested railway industry,

which today is paralyzed and demoralized, as the result of unwise legislation influenced by agitation and prejudice.

Next to agriculture the railways of the country are important, and without them the farm as well as its products would shrink in value beyond compute. Aside from the fact that they employ a great army of men, they also furnish employment to a long list of factories whose work is entirely confined to railway equipment.

Mr. B. F. Youkam of railway fame

recently forecast this great industry and its relation to the government as well as the people.

In predicting that the population of the country will be 100,000,000 in ten years and that of that number 4,000,

000 will be railroad employees, making with their families a total of 20,000,

000, or one-fifth of the population, do

depending upon the railroad industry, B.

F. Youkam presents what is unquestionably the strongest argument that could be advanced against government ownership of the railroads.

The mere statement of these figures makes the suggestion of government ownership appalling to every thoughtful person who comprehends the danger of political centralization and potential corruption involved in such an array of government employees.

In saying that railroad development in the next ten years would require

20,000,000 of new capital, Mr. Youkam makes a statement that constitutes what is probably the strongest argument that could be advanced for government ownership of railroads, because if this railroad development cannot be financed by private credit it might be necessary to call into action

the government credit, which would amount to government ownership.

Mr. Youkam is therefore right in demanding that kind of government regulation of the railroads which will attract rather than repel the investment of money in railroads.

The time will never come in this country when the government will own the railroads, but the time has come when unwise and disastrous legislation should cease.

Wisconsin has gained an unenviable reputation in its fight against these great corporations and the next legislation will do well to correct some of the evils resulting.

ENGLAND'S POET LAUREATE

The latest poem by Alfred Austin,

England's poet laureate, is entitled

"Unto the Last," and will be published in the Independent magazine for the present week.

No doubt the exclusive right to the publication of this poem in the United States has been obtained by that periodical at considerable cost, but we are almost certain our readers will agree with us when we say that something equally good could have been delivered by almost any member of

Cook County Poets' union, local 4-1-44.

Here are three of the seven verses which it has been thought worth while to telegraph from New York:

When the player flaps
O'er the fife play,
And the woodpecker taps
On the rotting bough;

When the starved rook pecks
At the tight-stacked grain,
And the tattered nest
Flecks the leafless lane;

Then, then will you love
Me, and still no less
When the grass waves above
My dreamlessness?

The Inter Ocean in commenting says:

"Now, if Dr. Howard S. Taylor were not running for United States senator on the Independence League ticket, and if Mr. Hearst would only give him a few hours off, we have not the slightest doubt but he would be able to hand in for the Noon edition, or at least for the Hearst and Home edition, or, at all events, for the Eight O'Clock Sporting edition, something like this:

"When the sparrow flits O'er the lawn mower still,
And the robin twits
By the hydrant rill—

"When the blue jay flits
For the squirrel's store,
And the wild bee hives
'Neath the eaves no more—

"Will you love me then
As you said you did
When the bullfrog croaked
To the katydid?

"Or, if by any chance he should fail,
we could, if we cared to do so, name

any one of a score of sweet singers of Cook county who, on the shortest notice, would be able to produce something like this:

"When the toments roam
Through the noisy night,
And the tables moan
In the pale moonlight—

"When from easements fly
Round books or chairs,
And the boarders rush
For the backdoor stairs—

"Then, then will you love
Me, and still no less
When they're making hay
O'er my dreamlessness?

"And one of the many pleasing features of the product of Cook county in this line would be that it need not be confined to seven or any other number of verses. If the Independent could use it the Union would undertake to send it poetry of this kind by the yard or bale, as the editor might elect."

"FATHER TO THE THOUGHT"

It is a little old saying that "the wish is father to the thought," and the present campaign is enforcing the truthfulness of the statement. There is in the republican party a small contingency who, while claiming party loyalty, are busily engaged in expressing doubt, and who would be gratified

were Taft defeated and the whole republican ticket sacrificed.

A little group of this kind of men stood on the depot platform at Madison, the other day, discussing Taft's speech and the political situation generally. They were representatives of the small but rapidly diminishing element of radicals, who have been so busily engaged in reforming everything in sight, for the past four years.

Presently they were joined by the state dairy and food commissioner, who consoled them by saying that if they expected to see Taft elected, they must get out and hustle, and that he found it necessary to do a little missionary work in his own family as his brother had declared his intention of voting for Bryan.

Then they all decided in mournful

numbers that some of their neighbors were affected with the same microbe.

The interview was quite depressing

until one of the party produced a Milwaukee Sentinel, and said, "Did you see this editorial, the d— (not that was ever published," and he displayed an editorial endorsing Taft's conservatism.

After following themselves of considerable bile, in language that would not look well in type, one of them said, "What can you expect of a paper that is owned by a corporation? The Sentinel and Janesville Gazette are the limit."

This is the kind of back-fire support with which the republican party, especially in Wisconsin, is contending. It gathers inspiration from the democra-tical tendencies of the senior United States senator, whom they worship as an idol.

Some of this same sort of talk is heard in Janesville, concerning the success of the state and county ticket.

It is unworthy of the men engaged in it, and of the great party to which they profess allegiance.

The republican ticket should be elector from top to bottom, and will be if the croakers stop croaking.

Paste This In Your Hat

If your teeth need much attention, you can save $5.00 to $10.00 on the job by having me do your work. I know what I'm talking about. My regular fees are much below those dictated in the agreement. Signed and adhered to by so many of the local dentists. And my work I am not ashamed to have compared with any you may have in your mouth for which you probably have paid twice my fee. I put out good work, as is evidenced by my smiling teeth nearly every day which are now in the best of repair, which I fixed up five to eight years ago.

Try me for your next dentistry.

CASH RESOURCES

The National Banking Law as well as the State Laws require that a bank must always have at least fifteen per cent of its deposits in cash, or due from approved reserve agents.

The government does not require a reserve against a United States deposit, our $200,000, cash resources, is therefore 34% of deposits.

Add to this $74,500 of unissued National Bank currency which we hold in our vaults ready for instant use and our cash on hand becomes 46% of our deposits, against which a reserve is required.

BRYAN CRITICISES POSITION OF TAFT

"PUBLICITY BEFORE ELECTION" ONLY PROPER METHOD.

NO MISLEADING OF VOTERS

Democratic Candidate Again Gives His Reasons for Making Known Contributions to Fund During the Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—Declaring that every distributed voter knows that large contributions have been used "to secure mortgages upon officials," William J. Bryan Thursday night issued at Fairview a statement criticizing the adoption by William H. Taft of President Roosevelt's announced view on the subject of the publicity of campaign contributions.

Mr. Taft, says Mr. Bryan, makes the same charge the president does—the use, touting charge, that the voters are so liable to be misled that the knowledge (as to the amounts and sources of campaign contributions) must be kept from them. "The Democratic nominee then adds: 'I insist that this is an insult to the intelligence of the voter, and it does little credit to Mr. Taft's judgment of the men to whom he is making his appeal.'"

Glad to Know Taft's Views.

Mr. Bryan says in part:

"I am surprised to find that Mr. Taft indorses the president's views on the subject of publicity as to campaign contributions, but since he holds these views, I am glad that he makes them known now. We now have publicity before the election" as to his opinion even if he does not believe in publicity of contributions until after the election. He fails to see the difference between the publication of contributions before election and the publication of expenditures before election. The publication of expenditures is required to show whether corrupt methods have been employed in the election and as the expenditures continue up to the close of the polls, it would be impossible to make a complete publication until after the election.

"The publication of contributions ought to be before election; the main reason for the publication of contributions before election is to show the public the sources from which the contributions come, in order that the public may know which party predatory interests are supporting. Every one who knows human nature knows that the element of gratitude must always be considered in human affairs. Ingratitude has been described as a worse sin than revenge, for ingratitude repays good with evil while revenge only repays evil with evil. Every disinterested voter knows that large contributions have been used to secure mortgages upon officials. The publication of contributions throws a great deal more light upon the influence at work in politics than the publication of expenditures, for the publication of contributions shows to whom the party is indebted, and to whom repayment is likely to be made, while the publication of expenditures shows what has been paid out, and disbursements do not create obligations that affect the course of the administration."

His Position as to Hughes.

Concerning Gov. Hughes Mr. Bryan says:

"Mr. Taft misrepresents what I have said in regard to Mr. Hughes. I called attention to some of the contributions that were made to Mr. Hughes' fund, and in view of the fact that Mr. Hughes attacks the remedies presented in the Democratic platform as a cure for the trusts without advancing any remedies of his own, and in view of the further fact that this testimony was quoted by the president against me, I asked the president whether he thought that those contributions by trust magnates would lessen or increase the weight of Mr. Hughes' testimony on the subject of trusts."

"It will not do for Mr. Taft to put Mr. Hughes upon a pedestal and claim for him immunity from criticism. It is not necessary for me to pass judgment upon Mr. Hughes or upon what he has done in order to pass judgment upon the question under discussion. He is only human and was one of the allies before the Chicago convention. We assume that public officials will be honest, and yet we require bonds of those who handle money, no matter how much character they may have. The law will not permit a judge, a juror or an official to accept a gift, if the gift is from one who has an interest in the official action of the official, and in forbidding this the law does not ask us to the character of the official. The law is based upon human nature and human experience, and it is not necessary to furnish specific proof of special weakness in the man who receives the money, or to prove that his decision was in any manner affected by the gift. No scales have yet been invented for the accurate weighing of the reasons which enter into an official's decision."

Fatal Auto Accident in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Hattie Deiner of Kalamazoo, Mich., was instantly killed Thursday night and Louis J. Foy of Detroit was probably fatally injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a street car on Jefferson avenue near Hurst avenue. Mr. Foy has a fractured skull and a broken arm. Mrs. Deiner's neck was broken.

MICHIGAN TICKET NAMED

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE MEN TO RUN WITH HEMANS.

National Candidates Indorsed—J. H. Vahey Put Up for Governor of Massachusetts.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 2.—A protracted discussion of the party platform in the resolutions committee, as a result of the introduction of some plans held by the party leaders to be too radical, furnished the feature of the state Democratic convention here Thursday. There were but two contests in the election of the state ticket, and in each case they were settled on the first ballot.

Following is the ticket, Lawton T. Hemans of Mason having been nominated for governor at the primary election in September:

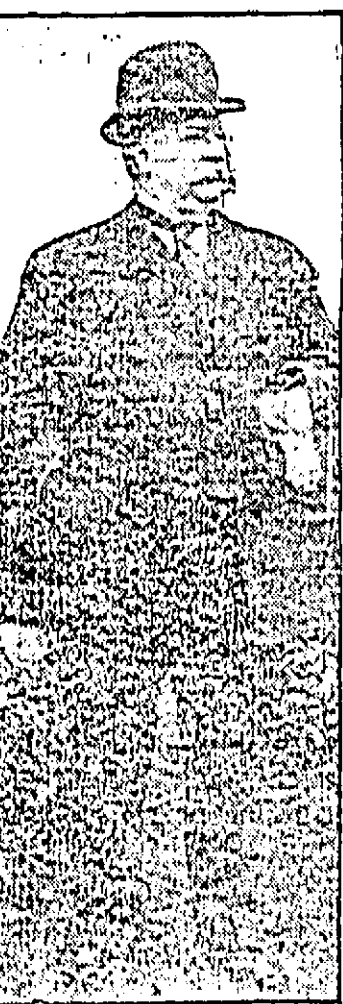

Lieutenant governor, S. D. Williams, Detroit; secretary of state, Frank T. McDonald, South St. Marie; state treasurer, Robert J. Whaley, Flint; auditor general, William F. Montague, Kalamazoo; attorney general, James G. Tucker, Coleman; superintendent of public instruction, W. Shorran Lister, Ionia; land commissioner, J. W. Tierney, Rosemont; member state board of education, Justin B. Whiting, Jackson; justice of supreme court to fill vacancy, Mark Norris, Grand Rapids; presidential electors-at-large, John C. Merdoun, Saginaw, John E. Bibbo, Ionia.

John T. Winship of Saginaw was re-elected chairman of the state central committee.

The platform, which contains about 1,400 words, is devoted almost entirely to state issues. It "reasserts our allegiance to the principles of majority rule and pure Democracy," and says of the national platform and ticket: "We cheerfully and earnestly indorse the national platform and fully believing in the wisdom, honesty and integrity of purpose of our standard bearers, William J. Bryan and John W. Kern, pledge to them our allegiance and assistance and hearty support, believing that under their leadership and by their election the people would receive relief from the many ills from which they are now suffering by reason of the class legislation of the Republican party."

Boston, Oct. 2.—With scarcely a far in its proceedings, the Democratic state convention Thursday nominated a state ticket for the November election, chose 10 presidential electors and adopted a set of resolutions, the main planks of which advocate tariff, labor and state administration reforms. The state ticket chosen was as follows:

Governor, James H. Vahey, Waterbury; lieutenant governor, Charles J. Barton, Monroe; secretary of state, James P. Ayward, Cambridge; treasurer and receiver general, Edwin H. Kennedy, Pittsfield; auditor, Simon Vlier, Lawrence; attorney general, John A. Thayer, Worcester; presidential electors-at-large, Richard Olney, Boston and James E. Cotter, Hyde Park.

Science and Wheat.

Science has many aids and suggestions to offer to the future wheat-producer, such as rotation of crops, methods of soil tillage, seed selection, etc., by means of which wheat may be profitably grown in a permanent system of agriculture, says the Century. "The future should bring to us as much, if not more, knowledge of soil fertility than has the past, and such knowledge will eventually become effective in the hands of the producer and put off the day when population will cease to increase because of insufficient food supplies."

TAFT FEELS SURE OF HIS ELECTION

PLEASED WITH EFFECTS OF HIS TOUR IN DOUBTFUL STATES.

SPEAKS TWICE IN OMAHA

Sherman Has a Busy Day in Central Illinois—Rumors of Criticism of Hitchcock and National Committee.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 2.—"I am going to be elected," this statement made Thursday night by William H. Taft, sums up what the candidate thinks of the effect of his speech-making tour thus far. The belief is based, Mr. Taft explained, on the manner of his reception in states thus far traversed in which there was reported to be defection among the Republican ranks.

As to the national ticket, Mr. Taft now believes that there is no reason to doubt that the Republican party will hold its own, and should this prove the case, he says there is no doubt that he will get the electoral vote of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska—the states in which the disaffection was supposed to exist.

Thirteen speeches were made by the candidate Thursday in a swing around the southeastern part of Nebraska and terminating at Omaha at night, where there were two big meetings, one for the benefit of the stock yards employees in South Omaha, the other in the Auditorium.

Sherman's Busy Day in Illinois.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 2.—The hardest day's work of his speech-making campaign in the middle west ended here Thursday night for James S. Sherman, the Republican vice-presidential candidate, in a meeting in the Coliseum, where several thousand persons heard him discuss the political issues. Mr. Sherman started the day at Decatur, where he began talking on sports before the students of Milliken university. He had but one audience almost wholly composed of farmers, and that was at the little village of Maroa, the first stop out of Decatur.

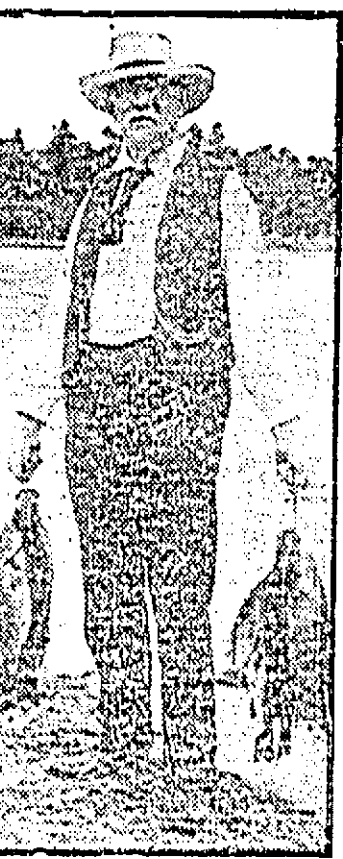

At Clinton, the next stop, a large crowd was on hand to greet the party. Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio and Congressman W. L. Hodgberg of Illinois also addressed the meeting. At Bloomington a crowd estimated at 10,000 greeted the party and listened to addresses by Mr. Sherman, Mr. Longworth and Congressman William H. McKinley of Illinois and John J. Bach of Wisconsin.

Criticism of Hitchcock.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Chairman Hitchcock of the national Republican committee arrived in Washington Friday, and the general understanding here is that while in the city he will call upon the president for the purpose of exchanging views with him regarding the conduct of the campaign in behalf of Secretary Taft.

It was reported here that the president had summoned Mr. Hitchcock for the purpose of requesting from him an explanation of many criticisms which have recently come to the White House concerning the management of affairs, both in New York and Chicago, but Secretary Loeb denied the portion of the report which attributed Mr. Hitchcock's coming to a special request from the president. "There is, however, excellent authority for the general statement that a number of complaints as to the management of the campaign have reached the executive mansion, and the understanding is that, although he has not requested the presence of the chairman of the national committee, President Roosevelt will welcome the opportunity to talk with him and to obtain from him such explanation of these criticisms as he may be able to make."

So far as divulged, the consensus seems to point to the fact that the national committee has this year failed to co-operate as completely and zealously with the congressional committee as in past years, and it is understood that some of the criticisms have come from Republican candidates for congress.

LED TO NAPOLEON'S DOWNFALL

Wounded Vanity at the Bottom of Disastrous Russian Campaign.

By the peace of Tilsit, that remarkable compact made between Napoleon and the czar in a tent on a raft moored in midstream of the River Memel, Bonaparte became master of Europe. Prussia, the Italian provinces, Italy, Spain, were all his, and it has always been a historic puzzle why he should have gone out of his way to break an agreement which must have satisfied even his ambitions. The best authority agrees that it was wounded vanity. No sooner had he compelled the czar to hand him over Europe than he conceived the idea of marrying Alexander's sister. Trusty ambassadors were sent to St. Petersburg on this delicate mission. The czar received them courteously, but showed disinclination to favor the marriage. This he was entitled to do without giving offense; but it is said that a court body heard Alexander privately say that nothing should induce him to allow his sister to marry "the Corsican parvenu."

This was assiduously reported to Napoleon, who, from that moment, plotted that mighty invasion of Russia, which cost him 160,000 troops left in the snow, and proved "the beginning of the end."

HERE'S REAL SAFETY ENVELOPE.

Ingenious Device for Double Locking a Letter.

A new envelope made in Paris is proof against the thief or the meddler who opens a letter to extract or to read its contents and then reveals it so cleverly as to hide any sign of it having been tampered with.

The new envelope is really two envelopes. Each is of thin paper, one a pronounced blue, the other lighter in color and different in texture. Each has a gummed flap.

The letter is first placed in the blue envelope, which is slightly smaller than the other. Instead of sealing this it is placed in the outer envelope and the inner flap brought outside and gummed down on to the larger envelope.

The outer flap is still unsealed. It is much larger than the inner flap and reaches down to a good-sized star-shaped opening which shows through to the inner envelope, so that when the outer flap is sealed it sticks not only to the outer envelope but also through this opening to the inner one. The letter is thus practically locked and double locked.

Act Singly.

"Fear never but you shall be consistent in whatever variety of actions, so they each be honest and natural in their hour. For of one will, the actions will be harmonious, however unlike they seem. These varieties are 'lost' sight of when seen at a little distance, at a little height of thought. One tendency unites them all. The voyage of a hundred tacks, [this is only microscopic criticism] see the line from a sufficient distance, and it straightens itself to the average tendency. Your genuine action will explain itself, and will explain your other genuine actions. Your conformity explains nothing. Act singly, and what you have already done singly will justify you now.—Emerson.

Beginnings of Gift.

Frequently one has to deal with chiefs, in fact in every village the traveler will probably be welcomed by the chief. An interchange of greetings through an interpreter establishes a good understanding.

An interchange of presents is usual on these occasions and is an almost universal custom. Etiquette requires the chief to give a present in return. As a rule a chief can only offer a bunch of bananas, some pawpaws or possibly a goat or two, some of which may possibly be welcome.

On a special occasion the chief may offer the traveler a wife, a gift which he will probably decline with a great profusion of thanks.—The Engineer.

In Memory of Old Hickory.

If the spirit of "Old Hickory" should decide to journey to the spot near which he entered the earthly house of this tabernacle in 1787 he would hardly recognize the place, so great has been the change. The wilderness has been made to bloom, and in its midst stands the thriving town of Waxhaw. He would soon discover, however, that he is not forgotten, for a bronze tablet on the railroad station proclaims the fact that near this place Andrew Jackson was born. And Squire Henry N. McWhorter, who lives hard by, is always ready to greet the spirit of the great Andrew with "Welcome, dear guest and ghost."

Irish League Honors President.

T. P. O'Connor was presented with his portrait in oils at Leeds by the Irish League of Great Britain, in commemoration of his unbroken presidency of the league for 25 years. John B. Redmond made the presentation and paid a tribute to Mr. O'Connor as a safe, consistent and courageous guide for the Irish people in Great Britain. John Dillon also spoke.

THE SEPARATE BLACK COAT.

The new length of coat for dressy afternoon wear is described in this imported model of a lustrous black broadcloth made with a center back seam, which gives a graceful follow to the skirt of the garment. Accentuating the beautiful lines of the coat is a novel ribbon trimming which comes to us as a revival of other days and known to our grandmothers as "saw tooth" trimming. This is edged either side with a narrow black silk guthrie, and a charming touch of color reveals itself in a green and gold passementerie in the collar and wide gold tissue ribbon edged with a narrow Mechlin lace down the inside of the fronts. The sleeve is full and gathered into wide ribbon and passementerie trimmed cuff.

Gold and brown, jade green and coral will be popular colors in toques.

Buttons are the distinguishing note of many of the fall and winter costumes.

The tailored suit for fall is taking the same line as the summer linen suits.
Skirts will be close-fitting, and the model most seen will be the manygored.

Gone is the "Merry Widow" and fashionable milliners are predicting small hats.

Light gray, combined with silver and steel, is once again a fashionable evening shade.

Flesh-colored holds first place for evening gowns and those matching the gown second.

Very dark materials will be used for many of the fashionable street suits
this winter.

School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott.

"David Brings the Ark to Jerusa-lum."—II Sam. vi.

Golden Text—Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise. Ps. cxi.

Verses 1-4—Which should always be the greater living issue to an intelligent people, education, legislation,
business or religion?

If the people give the church of God,
and personal religion, the first place in their affections and practical plans, does that necessarily imply that no other interest will be neglected?

If a man is highly educated, successful and popular, but neglects the church of God, and personal religion,
what does he gain, or lose, as a result?

Verses 5-6—Is it comely and is it profitable to worship God with the aid of a brass or string band?

What has been the result upon the moral and spiritual life of the community, of the band music of the Sa-vitar Army?

Is cultured music a help to real soul worship?

Judging from actual experience, are our up-to-date and musically-splendid choirs, a help or a hindrance to making converts to Christianity?

Verses 6-7—The Lord slew Uzzah after he put up his hand to steady the Ark; now in what did the sin of Uzzah consist to deserve a death penalty?

(This question must be answered in writing by the members of the club.
Consult a commentary or some well-informed clergyman, if not able to answer to your own satisfaction.)

When a man wants to improve upon God's method of running the world, and is afraid that everything is heading for destruction, what difference is there between his folly and that of Uzzah?

Verses 8-10—Sometimes with one single act a man contracts an incurable disease, and it results in his death; is there anything in such a circumstance to make a wise onlooker angry with God?

Did David act with wisdom or otherwise in being displeased with God for his destruction of Uzzah?

When we see or hear of great natural calamities, such as earthquakes, tornadoes, fires, etc., with great destruction of life and property, what should our attitude be toward God?

Verses 11—Take a town rich in its manufactures, in its general trade, in its shipping advantages, with no churches; and a similar town with churches added. Compare the two in all that goes to make life worth living, and state the results of your comparison.

Does God invariably bless the home and the community in which are to be found "the Ark of the Lord?"

Verses 12-14—What is invariably the result of building a church, starting a Sunday School, or organizing a Bible class, where there are none?

Which is the better and more natural way to conduct public worship:
with the old-time enthusiasm or shout-ings with bodily motions to match, or with our present sedate silence and outward imperturbability?

Verses 17-19—Is God pleased with any public worship where the chief desire is for personal blessing, and with but little thought to help the poor and needy, and to save the lost shown by giving our money for that purpose?

Verses 20-23—Did you ever know any person to have spiritual children, who made fun of or despised religious enthusiasm in others?

God's Promise to David, I Chron. xvii.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN OF 1788.

The first presidential election ever held in the United States was of a radically different character than those of the present generation. Political party alignment had not yet divided electors into factions and the membership of the party conventions was undivided. On the contrary, the choice of a president was directed along the line of non-partisan merit, which the cycle of years seems to again be bringing to the country.

On September 13, 1788, the old congress of the Confederation made formal announcement that the constitution of the United States had been ratified by the required number of states and on the twenty-third of the same month held its final session. One of its last acts was to provide for putting the new government into operation and most important of all provision for choosing administrative officers of a new government.

It was enacted that the presidential electors should be chosen on the first Wednesday in January instead of the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, as now obtaining. It was provided that the electors should meet and cast their votes for president and vice president on the first Wednesday in February and that the new congress should assemble on the first Wednesday in March. The fact that this latter date happened to fall on March fourth the date which was subsequently chosen as the milestone for all succeeding administrations.

Business Genius.

He who can be "all things to all men"—solicitors of one's patronage, comparatively indifferent to another;
who can study his customer's likes and dislikes, and meet them in all their varying, and very often unknown, moods—is he who is going to be most successful. The ability to do this may be described as business genius—and it is perhaps the most rare quality in the world.—Men's Wear.

Duties of the Rich and Poor.

Duties, as a general rule, are harder to be collected from the rich man than from the slave of toil, for the former builds upon his position in society to excuse him from his obligations, while the latter often makes the attempt to discharge his contracts to preserve his standing in the community.

Requisite Hours of Sleep.

No definite standard of the number of hours' sleep required by any man can be laid down. It depends absolutely on yourself. One man needs a great deal of sleep, just as he needs food. Another can get along with four or five hours. Dismiss the idea that it is a virtue to be able to do with a small quantity of sleep.

Tournament at the Country Club Yesterday.

Prizes of all sorts and sizes, ranging from obsolete bric-a-brac, literature, and hand-painted china, to domestic livestock were in evidence at the rummage whist party given at the Country Club yesterday afternoon. The collection contained articles from nearly forty garrets and though some tried to escape, none were permitted to go away empty-handed. Nearly two scores of ladies participated in the novel and mirth-provoking bridge contest which closed the 1908 series at the Club. Miss Helen Nash won first honors and choice of the awards and Mrs. E. P.
Doty was second in the competition.

Made In A Model Factory.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is made in the same factory as Ivory Soap.

In point of completeness, cleanliness and beauty, the Ivorydale factories of The Procter & Gamble Co. have few equals and no superiors.

It is there that Ivory Soap is made.

There, also, P. & G. Naphtha Soap is manufactured.

It is not necessary to tell you anything about Ivory Soap.

You use it; and you know that for bath, toilet and fine laundry purposes, it is unequalled.

The same thing is true of P. & G. Naphtha Soap. For quick, easy washing, it is unequalled.

The price of "P. & G." is higher than that of ordinary laundry soap; but as one cake will last longer and do more work than two cakes of ordinary soap, it pays to use it.

The BRASS BOWL

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

(Copyright 1907, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.)
They wavered and fell back, grumbling discontentedly; and Maitland, his anxiety temporarily distracted by the noise they made, looked round to find his erstwhile caddy at his elbow. Of whom the sight was inspiration. Ever thoughtful, never unmindful of her whose influence held him in this coil, he laid an arresting hand on the man's sleeve.

"You've got your cab?"
"Yessir, right outside."
"Drive round the corner, away from the crowd, and wait for me. If she—the young lady—comes without me, drive her anywhere she tells you and come to my rooms to-morrow morning for your pay."

"Thanked, sir."
Maitland turned back, to find the attention round the elevator shaft in statu quo. Nothing had happened, save that Hickey's rage and vexation had increased immensely.

"But why don't you go up after him?"
"How 'n blazes can I?" exploded the detective. "He's got the night car. I take the stairs, he comes down by the shaft, and how'm I to trust this here nut?"

"He indicated his associate but humbler custodian of the peace with a disgusted gesture.
"Perhaps one of the other cars will run," Maitland suggested.

"Ah, they're all dead ones," Hickey disagreed with disdain as the young man moved down the row of gates, trying one after another. "You're only wastin'!"

He broke off with a snort as Maitland, somewhat to his own surprise, managing to move the gate of the third shaft from the night elevator, stopped into the darkened car and groped for the controller. Presently his fingers encountered it, and he moved it cautiously to one side.

A vicious blue spark leaped from the controller-box and the cage bounded up a dozen feet, and was only restrained from its ambition to soar skywards by an instantaneous release of the lever.

By discreet manipulation Maitland worked the car down to the street floor again, and Hickey, with a grunt that might be interpreted as an apology for his incredulity, jumped in.

"Let 'er rip!" he cried, exultantly. "Fan them folks out into the street, Hergen, 'nd watch 'em out!"

Maitland was pressing the lever slowly wide of its catch, and the lighted lobby dropped out of sight while the detective was still shouting admonitions to the police below. Gradually gaining momentum the car began to shoot smoothly up into the blackness, safety chains clanking beneath the floor. Hickey fumbled for the electric light switch but, finding it, immediately shut the place off again and left the car in darkness.

"Safer," he explained, sententiously. "Anisy 'll shoot, 'nd they says he shoots straight."

Floor after floor in ghostly strata slipped silently down before their eyes. Halfway to the top, approximately, Hickey's voice rang sharply in the volunteer operator's ear.

"Stop 'er! Hold 'er steady. Tother's comin' down."

Maitland obeyed, managing the car with greater ease and less jerkily as he began to understand the principle of the lever. The cage paused in the black shaft, and he looked upward.

Down the third shaft went, the other cage was dropping like a plummet, a block of golden light walled in by black filigree-work and bisected vertically by the black line of the guideway.

"Stop that there car!"
Hickey's stentorian command had no effect; the block of light continued to fall with unabated speed.

The detective wasted no more breath. As the other car swept past, Maitland was shocked by a report and flash beside him. Hickey was using his revolver.

The detonation was answered by a cry, a scream of pain, from the lighted cage. It paused on the instant, like a bird stricken awing, some four floors below, but at once resumed its downward sweep.

the iron rattled work he could distinctly observe the growing cube of light, with a dark shape lying huddled in one corner of the floor. A second figure, rapidly taking shape as Anisy's, stood by the controller, braced against the side of the car, one hand on the lever, the other pointing a shining thing, the flesh-colored oval of his face.

Hickey Was Using His Revolver.

turned upwards in a supposition attempt to discern the location of the dark car.

Hickey, by firing prematurely, lent him adventitious aid. The criminal, slung with spirit, aiming at the flash, his bullet patter against the back wall of the shaft. Hickey's next bullet rang with a bull-like note against the metal-work, Anisy's presumably went wide—though Maitland could have sworn he felt the cold kiss of its breath upon his cheek. And the lighted cage rocked past and up.

Maitland needed no admonition to pursue; his mind was up, his heart slung with the lust of the man-hunt. Yet Anisy was rapidly leaving them, his car soaring at an appalling pace. Towards the top he evidently made some attempt to slow up, but either he was ignorant of the management of the lever, or else something had got beyond control. The cage rumbled the buffers with a crash that echoed through the sounding halls like a peal of thunder-claps; it was instantaneously plunged into darkness. There followed a splintering and rending sound, and Maitland, heart in mouth, could make out dimly a dark, falling shadow in the further shaft. Yet ere it had descended a score of feet the safety-clutch acted and, with a third tremendous jar, shaking the building, the car halted.

Hickey and Maitland were then some five floors below. "Stop 'er at 19," ordered the detective. There was a lit of exultation in his voice. "We got him now, all right, all right. He'll try to get down by—there!" Overhead the crash of a gate forced open was followed by a scurry of footsteps over the tiling. "Stop 'er and we'll head him off. He now—easy!"

Maitland shut off the power as the car reached the nineteenth floor. Hickey opened the gate and jumped out. "Shut that," he commanded, sharply, as Maitland followed him, "in case he gets past us."

He paused a moment in thought, heavy head on bull-neck drooping forward as he stared toward the rear of the building. He was fearless and resourceful, for all his many delinquencies. Maitland found time, quietly enough, to regard him with detached curiosity, a rare animal, illustrating all that was best and worst in his order. Endowed with exceptional courage, his address in emergencies seemed altogether admirable.

"Yeh guard them stairs," he decided, suddenly. "I'll run through this hall, 'nd see what's doing. Don't hesitate to shoot if he tries to jump yeh." And was gone, clumping briskly down the corridor to the rear.

Maitland, yielding the initiative to the other's superior generalship, stood sentinel, revolver in hand, until the detective returned, overheated and sweating, from his tour, to report "nothin' doin'," with characteristic brevity. He had the same report to make on both the twentieth and twenty-first floors, where the same procedure was observed; but as the latter was reached unexpected and very welcome reinforcements were gained by the arrival of a third car, containing three patrolmen and one roundman.

Yet numbers created delay; Hickey was seized and compelled to paint explanations, to his supreme disgust.

And, suddenly impatient beyond endurance, Maitland left them and alone sprang up the stairs.

That this was simple foolhardiness may be granted without dispute. But it must be borne in mind that he was very young and ardent, very greatly perturbed on behalf of an actor in the tragedy in whom the police, to their then knowledge, had no interest whatsoever. And if in the heat of chase he had for an instant forgotten her, now he remembered; and at once the capture of Anisy was relegated to the status of a matter of secondary importance. The real matter at stake was the safety of the girl whom Anisy, by exercise of an informal ingenuity that passed Maitland's comprehension, had managed to spirit into this place of death and darkness and whispering hells. Where she might be, in what degree of suffering and danger—these were the considerations that sent him in search of her without a thought of personal peril, but with a sick heart and overwhelmed with a stifling sense of anxiety.

More active than the paunch-bellied detective, he had sprinted down and back through the hallway of the twenty-second floor, without discovering anything, ere the police contingent had reached an agreement and the stairhead.

REYNOLDS CHOSEN HEAD OF BANKERS

CHICAGOAN ELECTED AT THE CONVENTION IN DENVER.

GUARANTEE LAW OPPOSED

Proposition to Establish Postal Savings Banks Also Condemned in Resolutions Adopted by the Financiers.

Denver, Col., Oct. 2.—The thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Bankers' association came to an end Thursday afternoon with the election of George M. Reynolds of Chicago, president, and Lewis E. Plerson of New York, first vice-president.

Thirty-eight new members were announced and a vice-president representing each of the states having representatives in the association was named.

The convention also placed itself squarely on record as against both the proposition to guarantee bank deposits and that to establish postal savings banks.

Lively discussion arose over the report of the federal legislative committee opposing these plans. The resolution offered by the committee, however, contained a condemnation of the guarantee law only, making no mention of the postal savings banks. A light led by Clifford R. Breckinridge of Arkansas was made to include condemnation of postal savings banks in the same resolutions.

An amendment to the resolution was offered substituting the words "it is a delusion that the tax upon the strong will prevent the failure of the weak," for section 8 as reported, which read: "It unjustly weakens the strong and unfairly strengthens the weak banks."

The amendment was adopted and the report of the committee with its resolution was then carried without a dissenting voice.

Postal Banks Opposed.
Mr. Breckinridge then offered the following resolution, which was also adopted with only two or three dissenting votes:

"That the American Banking association condemns as unwise and hurtful all proposals to establish postal savings banks."

Nearly two hours were consumed with the reports of vice-presidents from the several states, the consensus of which was that the objects of the recent panic are rapidly passing away throughout the country.

LIVELY DAY IN PITTSBURG.

Many Injured in Crush During the Historical Parade.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 2.—Over a score of men, women and children were injured, some of them so painfully that treatment at the various hospitals was necessary, during the great historical and industrial parade Thursday in celebration of Pittsburg's sesqui-centennial anniversary. It is estimated that over 300,000 persons lined the route of the parade and at times the crush was so great that many persons were thrown to the ground and severely trampled before rescued by the police.

Shot by His Former Sweetheart.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.—Ed Powers, pressman at the Detroit Times, was shot through the right lung Thursday night on Griswold street near Michigan avenue, by a woman known as Rosalie Kay, a former sweetheart of Powers. The woman stated to the police that Powers had been following and annoying her and that she shot at his feet to frighten him away. Powers probably will die.

Equal Suffrage Meet.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—The thirty-second annual convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association was held Thursday at the State fair grounds. Mrs. Ella H. Stewart of Chicago was elected president.

OUR CLAIMS TUBULAR

Sixteen Cows, and a Tubular Separator, make more butter than twenty cows and no Separator.

We guarantee that, by the proper use of a Sharpley's Tubular Separator, you may increase your profits as follows: If you use the best gravity process, under the most favorable conditions, your gain in yield of butter by the use of the Tubular Separator will be more than ten per cent. If you use the best gravity process under unfavorable conditions—lack of very cold water or long hours of milking—your gain will be more than twenty per cent. If you use an inferior gravity process, your gain will be more than twenty-five to fifty per cent. The quality of butter will be increased 10 to 50 per cent.

There are hundreds of farmers who have a good idea that a Cream Separator will pay well, and in fact every dairy should have one. Time goes on and the convenient time for investing in a separator also goes on, and is always just a little in the future. This is wrong and every day you delay you are losing some Cream by letting it go with the milk. Invest in the matter now, or you don't buy it until next month.

The Sharpley's Separator Company manufactures more Separators and sell more than any competitor. They have the largest, best equipped Cream Separator Factory in the world, besides a large one in Canada and a third one in Germany. They make 60,000 Separators annually. Each year shows advancement and the Sharpley's Separator is perfected.

TEACH CHILDREN HYGIENE

MOST IMPORTANT FEATURE OF TUBERCULOSIS CRUSADE.

So Declares Dr. Koch at the Congress—Movement for National Department of Health.

Washington, Oct. 2.—"Of more importance than any other feature in the crusade against the scourge of the white plague is the campaign of education." This emphatic declaration was made by Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent German scientist, who Thursday again figured prominently in a controversial discussion of tuberculosis before the International Congress on Tuberculosis.

This utterance was made just after a report had been submitted by Dr. G. A. Heron, delegate of the Royal Society of Medicine of London, on "The Teaching of Elementary Hygiene in the Training Colleges and Elementary Schools of Great Britain and Ireland."

Dr. Koch, in his comment on the report, regretted that thus far most of the educational efforts in the campaign to stamp out tuberculosis have been made quite confined with adults. He emphasized the importance of teaching hygiene to children because, he said, they are quicker to learn the hygienic laws than are the adults.

That strong effort will be made to place the congress on record in favor of the establishment of a national department of health was indicated at the session of the section on "State and Municipal Control of Tuberculosis," of which Surgeon General Wyman is at the head. In opening the discussion with regard to the necessity of a national department of health by combining federal health agencies, Surgeon General Wyman announced that there was good prospect of the accomplishment of this end, and that the United States public health and Marine hospital service would participate in the movement.

FLEET ANCHORS AT MANILA.

Battleships Arrive But Formalities Are Delayed for Water Fete.

Manila, Oct. 2.—The Atlantic fleet passed in by Corregidor island early Friday afternoon. Launches went out to meet the fleet down the coast and accompany it into the harbor.

There were no formalities in the way of reception outside of the demonstrations by the steamers and harbor craft which sail about the fleet as it lies at anchor. At night the ships will be illuminated.

Gov. Gen. Smith will pay an official call on Admiral Sperry after the great water parade Saturday is over.

Dangerous Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—More than 50 people were driven from their homes, many of them in scant attire, seven persons were rescued, and property valued at $75,000 was destroyed at one o'clock Friday morning when fire started in the Columbia livery, at 353 Rush street, practically destroyed that building, and spread to several others in the vicinity. One hundred horses stabled in the barn were rescued.

Dr. Mann Is Elected Bishop.
Washington, Oct. 2.—Dr. Alexander Mann of Plymouth Episcopal church, Boston, was Thursday night elected bishop of the Protestant diocese of Washington on the seventh ballot. Bishop Brent of the Philippines had twice declined the honor after being elected. The vacancy was caused by the death of Bishop Henry V. Satterlee.

Another Ohio County Dry.
Delaware, O., Oct. 2.—Delaware county Thursday by a majority of 2,148 voted to banish the saloons. The "dry" carried the city of Delaware by 625.

POWDER HOUSE BLOWS UP.

Two Men Killed and Score Injured at Spencer, N. C.

Spencer, N. C., Oct. 2.—Two lives were lost and 20 or more persons were injured in Spencer Thursday night by the explosion of a powder storage house on the yards of the Southern Railway Company, and most of the buildings nearby were damaged by the shock and the fire which followed.

The dead are: C. H. Layton, aged 48, of Raleigh and George Gould, aged 30 of Spencer. It is feared that other bodies are in the ruins.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 2, 1868.—Rev. Mr. Fairbanks.—We understand that the Rev. Mr. Fairbanks, who has been assistant pastor at St. Patrick's church, has been removed to East Troy where he takes charge of a congregation there. Before leaving, he was presented with a gold watch and chain, together with a fine silver chalice, as tokens of the love and esteem of the Catholics here. He carried with him the best wishes of the whole society. The presentation took place at the pastor's residence, Ferdinand Quinn, on the part of the congregation presenting the gifts with a neat speech. The present is valued at $250.

Married.—Last evening the marriage of Mr. O. F. Bowles and Miss Josephine Whittier took place in this city. Miss Whittier entered the Gazette office in July, 1864, to learn the business of a compositor, and has been constantly at her case until she left a few weeks ago.

Pass The Hat.—It is enough to excite the indignation of everyone who sends children to school at the High School building to witness the custom of their shoes and stockings after walking through the sea of mud which must be crossed in reaching the school room. Not even so much as a few old boards have been provided to save the teachers and children from getting their feet wet and bedaubed.

Shoppers.—A Republican Meeting.—In company with some thirty or forty Tanners from Companies A and B of this city, we visited Shoppers yesterday afternoon to attend a Republican meeting there in the evening. The Republicans of that place entertained those who went there from Janesville, in a most hospitable manner. In the evening there was a parade of the tanners, who after marching about the streets for some time, proceeded to the church which had been opened for the meeting. Those from this city who were at the meeting and who gave speeches were, Messrs. Geo. B. Peck, James Sutherland, Wm. Smith, J. M. Burgess, S. J. M. Putnam and Dr. Treat.

The Spanish Revolution.—Madrid, Sept. 30.—The Official Gazette today publishes a proclamation of the provisional government, pronouncing the deposition of Queen Isabella, proclaiming the sovereignty of the people, and concluding with a denunciation of the monarchs. The leading bankers and merchants of Andalusia have offered the provisional government large loans of money.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—General Calvo y Fiol, who preparing to fly to France was arrested and handed over to the revolutionary authorities. The city of Madrid is perfectly quiet. Don Sebastian advised the Queen to inaugurate a civil war, but the Basque provinces refused to supply men or money for the purpose. The Basque provinces have since given in their adhesion to the revolution.

FATAL BLAZE IN YOUNGSTOWN.

Fire Chief and Others Burned Under Falling Walls.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 2.—Eight firemen were burned under falling walls and floors of S. H. Knox & Co.'s five and ten-cent store during a fire Thursday night that gutted the building. Five of the men were taken out badly injured. Those still missing are Fire Chief Thomas Kelley, Capt. Charles Vaughn and Edward Sweeney. Chief of Police William Lawler was probably fatally injured and several other men were hurt. The flames started in the basement. It is said, and soon spread. The upper floors were occupied by offices and a school. The firemen battled with the fire from the roof and third floor, when suddenly the whole interior of the structure gave way carrying eight firemen to the first floor and basement.

Lucky for the Ladies.
No woman would be safe if the man who has a jealous wife were the lady killer she thinks him to be.

SOME people have an idea that a paint that's right for indoor work is not as good for outside painting; and vice versa.

It's a mistaken idea; Devco Lead-and-Zinc Paint is right for any sort of painting; it covers more surface per gallon and does it better than ordinary paint.

Hand-mixed paint doesn't begin to do the work so well, no matter how good the painter.

For all painting, use and insist on having Devco Lead-and-Zinc Paint.

LEAGUE BASEBALL RESULTS.

For an off day in baseball the few games which were played Thursday were of vast importance to the pennant chances of the three leading clubs in the National league race. New York played two games at Philadelphia and was able only to get an even break, while Chicago defeated the Cincinnati team on the latter's home grounds. The results of these games caused the New York team to fall back two points in their percentage and enabled the Chicago club to draw two points closer to New York. This left Chicago and Pittsburgh tied for second place with New York leading by the narrow margin of two points.

Only the second division teams of the American league played Thursday, the leading teams being on the road.

The standing of the clubs in the two leagues follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
New York	41	14	.743
Chicago	35	23	.604
Pittsburgh	32	26	.554
Philadelphia	29	29	.500
Cincinnati	27	31	.463
Boston	26	32	.448
Brooklyn	25	33	.435
St. Louis	24	34	.412
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Detroit	31	17	.646
Cleveland	28	20	.583
Chicago	27	21	.563
St. Louis	26	22	.542
Boston	25	23	.520
Philadelphia	24	24	.500
Washington	23	25	.479
New York	22	26	.458

In runs, hits and errors the baseball games played on Thursday resulted as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
At Philadelphia—New York, 4, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 10, 1; second game, Philadelphia, 6, 9, 0; New York, 2, 4, 2.
At Cincinnati—Chicago, 6, 4, 1; Cincinnati, 0, 2, 4.
At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 2, 5, 2; Boston, 1, 5, 0.
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
At New York—New York, 2, 7, 1; Washington, 1, 5, 0.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 5, 4, 1; Boston, 2, 0, 0.

Married Men Favored.
In the town of Strasburg, Germany, discrimination is made in favor of married couples with children in the matter of municipal salaries. Ten per cent. is deducted from the wages of men between 20 and 25 who are not married and afterward five per cent.

No Record of Time on Venus.

Inhabitants of Venus, if there are any, must find it extremely difficult to establish units of time. Venus always turns the same face toward the sun; so the planet has no day, and the lack of a moon deprives it of a month. Finally, it has no year, for its axis of rotation is perpendicular to the plane of its orbit and the latter is almost circular.
